SPECIAL PREMIER EVENT

“Sustainability Across South America”

Presented by National Geographic Adventure

Having documented 20 projects across 7 countries in Africa, Green Living Project™ is excited to premier its new multi-media presentation on South America! A must-see event for any adventure traveler, South America enthusiast, or sustainability advocate, this new inspiring showcase features 8 new sustainability projects across the Amazon rainforest, Andean mountains, and inland rivers of Brazil, Peru, and Ecuador. Experience the team’s journey and the latest efforts towards sustaining marine conservation (sea turtles, sharks), Amazon rainforest (brazil nut harvesting), eco-lodges (traditional haciendas), adventure eco-tourism (zip line, horseback riding, mountain biking, hiking), organic farming, renewable energy, indigenous communities, and more! Learn about sustainable living, responsible travel, and how you can get directly involved with these exciting projects!

FREE door prizes for the first 100 people and entry to win great gear from National Geographic Adventure, Keen Footwear, Timberland, Gregory Mountain Products, Clif Bar, and more!
