Having documented 50+ projects across 14 countries across Latin America, Africa, and North America, Green Living Project is excited to showcase its popular multi-media presentation on South America! This is a must-see event for any adventure traveler, South America enthusiast, or sustainability advocate. This inspiring showcase features unique sustainability projects across Brazil, Peru, and Ecuador. Experience the team's journey and witness the latest efforts towards sustaining the Amazon rainforest, wildlife research stations, eco-lodges, brazil nut harvesting, traditional haciendas, indigenous communities, adventure eco-tourism (zip-line, horseback riding, mountain biking, hiking), and marine conservation (sea turtles, sharks). Come learn about responsible adventure travel, sustainable living, and how you can get directly involved with these exciting projects. Special Feature: Exciting sustainability projects across Maine, including Maine Huts & Trails' cool new hut-to-hut system, a wind energy project, and a cutting-edge sustainability education project!

Special Free Gear for 1st 100 attendees! This event is open to the public. A voluntary $5 donation is requested at the door, and a portion will be donated to a featured project-selected by attendees! Join us for this special SF event!
