Company Overview:

Green Living Project is a fast growing and successful media production and marketing company promoting global sustainability. Through award-winning multi-media content (HD video, photography), GLP educates and inspires people on unique and successful sustainability initiatives (e.g. responsible tourism, eco-lodges, wildlife conservation, education, energy) around the world.

To date, GLP has documented 50+ unique and successful sustainability-related projects across 17 countries in AFRICA, SOUTH AMERICA, CENTRAL AMERICA and NORTH AMERICA. Project Partners include top-tier aid organizations (CARE), conservation organizations (Rainforest Alliance), 'voluntourism' companies (Earthwatch), eco-lodges (Maine Huts & Trails), national parks (South Africa National Parks), and tourism boards (Maine Tourism, Ecuador Tourism).

Following the international and domestic expeditions, GLP then promotes the projects through a successful Event Marketing program (100+ GLP Events in 2010), social media sites, Education Program, licensing partners (National Geographic, Travel + Leisure), web marketing, and more. Green Living Project™ launched the Mobile Tour in 2009, along with its exciting new Education Program and Curriculum. The Education Program allows classrooms across the U.S. to track and interact with the GLP Team, while also learning about sustainability and environmental awareness in the classroom.
